The Cumberland County Heritage Network (CCHN) is an organization designed to assist in the promotion and development of heritage sites throughout Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, Canada.

With the aid of the Cumberland County Heritage Network, we will give you a vision of the past; insights into the lives of the men and women who have shaped our heritage, culture and the nation which they helped build. From the four Fathers of Confederation who called our county home; to the wives and the children of the men who mined the coal that fuelled the industrial revolution; to the men that built the ships of the British Empire; and even further back into prehistory where the first life forms walked the Earth and gave rise to the first dinosaurs; here you will find it all, here in Cumberland County.
